The Cost of Insurance in smartMonday PRIME is Increasing

Here at smartMonday, we truly understand how sensitive most households are to price increases. In light of this, we have worked hard with our Insurer to keep any price increases reasonable to members for the insurance cover built into their super.

In particular, we have been successful in maintaining the current death and total and permanent disablement rates for Allianz employees. There will, however, be increases in premium rates for Income Protection Cover.

New Insurance Rates

The new income protection insurance rates below are based on (a) the insurers analysing claims information of the Fund members together with (b) the impact of legislative change on insurance pricing.

These legislative changes include the Australian Government's "Protecting Your Super" and "Putting Members Interest First" legislation which both impact the coverage across the Fund.

The underlying rates for income protection provided through smartMonday are increasing as shown in the Table below. This means new rates will take effect as of 15 December 2019, however we have negotiated with the Insurer that these insurance premium rates are guaranteed until 30 June 2022. Our negotiations have also resulted in a continuation of the current rates of cover for death and Total and Permanent Disablement to 15 December 2020.

This means the cost of cover for every age is guaranteed to remain unchanged to these dates (15 December 2020 for death and total and permanent disablement and 30 June 2022 for until 30 June 2022, even if there is an increase in the number of claims under the Fund.

However, please note that premiums do rise as you get older. Insurers in general consider that the older you are the more risk you pose and they factor this into their pricing, therefore you should expect to pay more for cover each year.

The rates of increase for smartMonday Insurance cover will be:

Type of insurance	Percentage increase
Income protection	+ 13.0% (2 Year Benefit Period)
Income protection	+ 91.6% (5 year or to age 65 Benefit Period)

The new income protection premium rates to apply from 15 December 2019 will be available in a Factsheet titled “smartMonday PRIME Allianz – Income Protection – New insurance rates”. This factsheet should be viewed in conjunction with, and forms part of his notice. It will be available from 15 November 2019 at <https://smartMonday.com.au/insurance-rates-Allianz> or can be provided to you on request by phoning 1300 880 588.

What does this mean to a member?

If a member holds income protection insurance cover in smartMonday, the premiums for this cover will increase from 15 December 2019. The increase in premiums does not impact the level and type of income protection insurance cover for any insured member. Please note however, that the deduction of insurance premiums from superannuation accounts can have an impact on member balances at retirement.

We will also provide those members with insurance further communications in January 2020 that will outline the specific details of their cover and the new premium that will apply.

This increase in premium rates does not require any action from members unless a member is concerned about the increased premiums, or level and type of cover.

The level and type of cover can be varied by completing the Insurance Update Form which can be found in the Forms Section of the smartMonday website. Members may also submit a request in writing to cancel cover at any time. If you wish to apply for an increase in cover, this may be subject to underwriting and approval by the Insurer.

At smartMonday, we encourage members to regularly review their insurance cover to ensure that it suits their situation.

How smartCoaches can help members answer their insurance questions?

smartMonday PRIME members have access to smartCoaches who can provide intra-fund advice (at no additional cost) about insurance, investment mix and contributions within the Fund.

The smartCoach team can be contacted on 1300 262 241, Mon – Fri 9.00am to 5.00pm AEST. Any intra-fund advice is provided by or on behalf of Aon.

What kind of insurance cover is available in smartMonday?

Insurance in smartMonday may include:

- Death insurance. Payable if you die or earlier in the event of terminal illness. The rates for this type of cover are not changing.
- Total and permanent disablement (TPD) insurance. Payable if an injury or illness prevents you ever being able to work again and you satisfy one of the definitions of total and permanent disablement. The rates for this type of cover are not changing.
- Income protection insurance. Payable as monthly income for a set period if an injury or illness prevents you from working. The rates for this type of cover are increasing.

For more information on smartMonday Terms and Conditions, including coverage, definitions and circumstances where there are exclusions or limitations to benefits, please refer to the Insurance Reference Guide which can be located in the Resources Section of the smartMonday website.

The Insurance Reference Guide can help members understand the insurance benefits available as well as their current costs – however please note, the new premium rates will be updated in the smartMonday PRIME PDS-Insurance guide on 15 December 2019.

What are the benefits of insurance through smartMonday?

- smartMonday has leveraged its relationships with leading Insurers to secure bulk discounts to offer members some of the best possible pricings for these types of policies.
- The cost of insurance is automatically deducted from a member's super unless the member's employer is meeting some or all the cost.

- Eligible members, in many circumstances, may be automatically accepted for cover without requiring a health check.
- Insurance costs paid out of super provides a member and their family protection, without impacting their weekly or monthly budget.

Please note that a possible disadvantage with insurance in super is that costs deducted from your account balance may reduce the benefit you have in retirement.
