Tax File Number

Additional tax may be applied to concessional contributions received and non-concessional contributions will be refunded for a member for whom the Aon Master Trust ("the Fund") does not hold a Tax File Number (TFN). Where an employer has been provided with a member's TFN, the employer is required to provide the TFN to the Fund. See the Fund's Product Disclosure Statement (available from the website at smartMonday.com.au or from the Fund Administrator) for more information.

If a valid TFN has not been provided, please complete a Tax File Number Declaration form (available from the Fund Administrator).

Please tick the box below that applies to your situation:

I am the member or the member's employer and have already provided a Tax File Number to the Fund.

I have enclosed a completed and signed Tax File Number Declaration.

I have not provided my Tax File Number and understand that additional tax may apply to concessional contributions and non-concessional contributions will not be accepted.
